

Case Study: Broadwind

Broadwind is on the cutting edge of the energy industry, manufacturing wind turbines and precision gears, and supporting the energy industry across a number of market segments.

When it comes to their internal operations, their internal audit team turned to policyIQ. Chris Pinne, Director of Internal Audit, is one of a large number of policyIQ clients that returns to the application as she moves from one company to another throughout her career.

Effective Version Control was a Central Requirement

When Chris took the role of Internal Audit Director at Broadwind, she quickly recognized a need for stronger version control in their documentation.

“Before I started at BWEN they were using word and excel documents saved on SharePoint. There were constant issues, because people would work on their hard drives and not save to SharePoint. We never knew if we had the latest version.”

Having used policyIQ at her prior employer, Chris knew that the application provided the version control - as well as the reporting and workflow - that Broadwind needed to be more efficient.

"Implementation is easy."

Having implemented policyIQ in the past, Chris was confident that the software would be ready for her team to use quickly.

"Implementation is easy. It took just a few weeks before we were fully up and running."

"It feels personal."

Product features, ease of use and the ability to be up and running quickly are all important to Chris, but it is the customer support that she highlights with the greatest enthusiasm.

"Superior customer support makes policyIQ shine! It is easy to talk to a person, they know who you are, and, if they can't help, they figure it out and get back to you ASAP. It feels personal."
